<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Personal Travel- The University does not cover costs for personal travel. University Traveler may extend their airfare dates to include personal travel as long as traveler documents the cost of airfare for University Travel only (e.g. to conference and back) since this will be the reimbursement amount. Proper documentation (cost comparison) includes a screenshot of air fare for University Travel, which must include university travel start date and end date, destination(s) and price. Any additional costs above reimbursement amount for personal travel is the traveler's responsibility and will have to pay the University back. International w/personal days of travel-A portion of the airfare may be taxable. See Taxability of International Travel with Personal Use in the CSU Travel Policy. Subsistence expenses for travel within 25 miles of an employee's headquarters or residence will not be reimbursed. Transportation expenses will be reimbursed based on the most economical mode of transportation and the most traveled route consistent with the purpose of the trip.
